

Tw // sexual topics, grooming (still confused on this one and still questioning myself), we'll just label it inappropriate conversations with minors.

I feel most people reading this probably already know of me, and not in a good way. But hi, I'm Nat, also known as Natritz. I'm not really gonna give a long intro because I don't know what to say so I'll just go into everything.

In Early 2018, I had just gotten into really playing Hypixel and watching Hypixel youtubers, which is how I found Spifey. I was 16 and was also getting into using Twitter at the time, so I followed him. I then got dared in a vc, with one of my friends to "slide into his dms" so on April 19th, 2018 I did, not thinking he would actually respond. He did and I freaked out. Obviously, like any fan would. I think the first concerning thing looking back, was the very first interactions. We went on to have a normal conversation after, just talking about music.

A few days later, was a conversation that at the time seemed normal, but now as an adult the insinuation and feelings I get from it seem less than innocent. For context, my name was "Unofficial Egirl" at the time, it was 2018, egirls were a trend on Tiktok. Something about saying "We'll see" and the winky face, knowing what I know now. Maybe I'm overthinking it, it just makes me uncomfortable

Here's another conversation from a few days later, that looking back, seems very off to me. Like flirting.

We talked on Twitter in dms for a bit, and then moved over to snap. This is a conversation I shared with a friend at the time, just freaking out because obviously, as a teenage girl I was excited that someone I was a fan of, even at the time, thought was flirting with me. I believe this was a conversation that happened over snapchat, so I do not have screenshots of the direct conversation.

This section is a part I'm embarrassed and I hold a lot of self blame for. When it came to my real name, Natalie, it felt very personal and intimate at the time to me. I wouldn't let anybody call me it. I also have a childhood nickname I felt the same about that will come into play for the same reasons. I had shared this information with Spifey via Snapchat.

In this conversation, you can see the implications for yourself. The conversation very obviously turned to outright flirting. I hold a lot of self blame, and I know other people will blame me as well because I was very obviously flirting with him and I accept that. But I was a 16 year old fan. He knew this.

And more

More Instances and agreeing to let me be his “egirl”

This is the conversation I posted originally. For context, people who know me know I’ve been a fan of Celestia Vega for YEARS. I’ve always loved her. When she came back a few years ago, I was the first person she followed on twitter upon her return. Again I hold a lot of self blame for this, I was very obviously flirting back. Natabug is also the childhood nickname of mine, the one along with my name. I told him I take it as very intimate and personal when people call me it. It’s clear he has a pattern of calling me both, multiple times, almost like he wanted me to call him “daddy”.

At this point we had been talking on both snapchat, and in twitter dms. I felt like we were friends, I thought he liked me. And at one point he had started to stop responding to me, or leave me on open. So I sad tweeted, like a teenage girl would. He asked me about it, sending me one of the tweets, which again made me feel like he cared about me. Which again also has another instance of saying my name.

Again, another instance of using my name, knowing the response it gets.

Reading these messages makes me want to pull my own eyes out. He clearly never made an attempt to tell me not to call him that, and clearly egged it on. Even back then, I was questioning why he hadn’t blocked me or told me to stop. Again I blame myself a lot for these. If I was a MCYT and had a 16 year old fan, dming me like this, I would put a stop to it. Clearly the conversations along the inappropriate and flirting line still continued.

There were multiple conversations like those that happened on Snapchat as well. Obviously I didn’t see a reason to save them, because I genuinely thought he was into me or at least cared about me and liked me. That being said..

There was multiple instances of inappropriate conversations between me and Spifey on snapchat. I remember on more than 1 occasion he would message me or send me snapchats while he was drunk/intoxicated. On more than one occasion he would talk to me in detail about the Tinder dates he went on. Going as far as to share that he was in a hotel room with a girl, in real time, and disappeared for a bit and came back to tell me about his experience with her. How bad she was at kissing, what they did, how he touched her and she touched him, etc. He would send me personal images of himself, and tell me not to share them. Inappropriate conversations to be having with a 16 year old fan. I will attach a recording of the things that were saved in the chat, but it's not much. He would come to me for advice on his mental health and anxiety, personal conversations you shouldn't have with a fan.

This screenrecording is from August of last year. There are things I do find inappropriate but I guess it's to each their own. Again I hold a lot of self blame. Such as calling me an egirl, calling me his egirl and again using my real name.

The last thing I want to mention is, in October of 2018, there was an incident. 2 girls had messaged me we'll call them K and A, stating Spifey had been messing around with both of them at the same time. They had added me to a groupchat, where proof was sent of him messing around with both of these girls at the same time. They both confronted him, and in a vc, with A and Spifey that I was part of, I was told by Spifey he had spread lies about me to multiple MCYT's and even Hypixel Staff. These included things like calling me a stalker, calling me a liar, saying he talked to me out of pity, saying he found me ugly, etc. Specific MCYT's name dropped were Skeppy and F1NN5TER, which made sense because they both at one point pulled me into a Hypixel TeamSpeak channel, and just sat there laughing to each other only to then move me back out of the channel. Spifey's reasoning for doing this was because people "kept asking if we were dating". I'm not going to post the messages from the groupchat because most of them are explicit images/videos, but I will include this. I blamed myself a lot for believing we were friends. This happening, really shifted my view on MCYT's and it made so many people distrust me, all because of Spifey.

People who know me from the Dream stuff, understand I took personal issue with him saying many other content creators have said Im a liar, because someone who groomed me started that. Spifey was that person.

After that, our friendship really fizzled out. We spoke sometimes, but not in the same way nor the same amount.

This doc is all over the place. I can't really put everything into words, hopefully the screenshots and screen recording will speak for themselves. I'm sorry. I've heard rumors there were other girls, just like me, and I'm ashamed I didn't say something sooner. I'm so sorry to those girls, maybe I could've prevented what happened to you. I should've said something sooner and I didn't. I blame myself so much.
